US HSS pricing steady in quiet holiday week

By Mark Burgess - Thursday 02 January

Pricing for US hollow structural sections (HSS) was unchanged this week, with most market participants citing a typical mid-week holiday malaise.

Fastmarkets assessed steel hollow sections ASTM A500 Grade B domestic, fob mill US at $900-960 per short ton ($45-48 per hundredweight) on Thursday January 2, steady since dipping by 2.62% from $930-$980 per ton on December 5.

"Things have been steady on the demand and pricing front in recent weeks," a producer source said.

This is a typically slow time for HSS, with the holidays and winter weather reducing construction projects. A winter storm is forecast for the central US this weekend and expanding into the mid-Atlantic early next week.

"There's nothing new to report in tubing," a distributor source said.

With HSS pricing now being assessed at its lowest level since October 29, 2020 ($900-950 per ton). Mills are hoping that signs of a market upturn will begin to accelerate with the inauguration of President-elect Donald Trump and the spring construction season just around the corner.

"There are no changes on HSS, but some rumors are circulating of a $50/ton increase scheduled for this month," a second distributor source said. "We'll see if they (HSS mills) do it."

Meanwhile, market participants are continuing to keep a close eye on a hot-rolled coil (HRC) market that was basically steady for the final five months of 2024.

Fastmarkets' daily steel hot-rolled coil index, fob mill US Midwest was calculated at $35.67 per cwt ($713.40 per ton) on Tuesday December 31. HRC pricing has been holding in a consistent range of $33-36 per cwt since early August.

Chinese HRC prices remain unchanged despite apparent demand decline

By Zihuan Pan - Thursday 02 January

Spot prices for Chinese hot-rolled coil remained unchanged on Thursday January 2, despite an accelerated decline in apparent demand and the stock market kicking off 2025 with a tumble, sources said.

Domestic

Fastmarkets' price assessment for steel hot-rolled coil domestic, ex-whs Eastern China was 3,420-3,430 yuan ($469-470) per tonne on Thursday, unchanged from Tuesday December 31.

Eastern China spot HRC prices remained unchanged after resuming trading from New Year's Day holiday, given the lack of change in supply-and-demand fundamentals, sources told Fastmarkets.

But the steel market was under pressure from a drop in the Chinese stock market and dismal industry data, sources said.

The Shanghai Composite Stock Index hit a five-week low of 3,242.09 at one point during Thursday and slumped by 2.66% to end the day at 3,262.56.

Data from a local information provider shows that apparent demand for HRC in China decreased by 66,200 tonnes week on week to 3.03 million tonnes in the week to Thursday, compared with a decline of 28,600 tonnes in the prior week.

Export

Fastmarkets calculated its steel hot-rolled coil index export, fob main port China at $473 per tonne on Thursday, unchanged from Tuesday.

Trading for Chinese HRC exports remained muted on the first trading day after the holiday with most market participants still in holiday mood, sources told Fastmarkets.

Volatility in Chinese steel prices and persistently poor demand also subdued HRC export trading, sources said.

Small, privately-owned mills kept their offers unchanged at $470-475 per tonne FOB China for HRC of SS400/Q235, or Q195 grade, 3-3.5mm thickness on Thursday, compared with earlier in the week.

Offers from larger, state-owned mills for similar cargoes also held stable at $475-480 per tonne FOB at base prices.

Green steel

Fastmarkets' assessment of flat steel reduced carbon emissions, daily inferred, exw China was 3,420-4,230 yuan per tonne on Thursday, unchanged from Tuesday.

This was assessed based on Fastmarkets' fortnightly price assessment of flat steel reduced carbon emissions differential, exw China, which calculates the premium for flat-rolled reduced carbon emissions steel over products produced from the traditional blast furnace-based route and came in at 0-800 yuan ($0-110) per tonne on Friday December 20.

Market chatter

"While demand is seasonally slow, supply is also shrinking due to anti-smog production cuts or year-end maintenance at mills. This led to the lack of an upward or downward direction to [Chinese steel] prices. Prices are likely to remain rangebound in the near term," an industry analyst in eastern China said.

Shanghai Futures Exchange

The most-traded May HRC futures contract on the Shanghai Futures Exchange closed at 3,424 yuan per tonne on Thursday, up by 6 yuan per tonne from Tuesday's close of 3,418 yuan per tonne.
