Summer steel slump to hit Nucor, SDI earnings

By Dan Hilliard - Tuesday 17 September

Sagging flat-rolled steel prices in the third quarter are expected to bite hard into the earnings of US electric-arc furnace (EAF) steel producers Nucor and Steel Dynamics Inc (SDI), though the bleeding for both pricing and demand seems to have stopped.

Fastmarkets' daily steel hot-rolled coil index, fob mill US Midwest has averaged about $33.75 per hundredweight ($675 per short ton) in the third quarter to date, down by 12.5% from the third-quarter 2023 average of $38.56 per cwt.

Against that backdrop, Nucor anticipates its earnings falling by about 79.9% in the third quarter from the prior-year quarter to $0.87-0.97 per diluted share, according to a statement made on Tuesday September 17. If a one-time charge of $0.43 per share is excluded from those results, the drop lessens to about 70.5%. In the third quarter of 2023, the company earned $4.57 per share, or $1.14 billion.

SDI likewise expects its earnings to slip by 43.5% year on year to $1.94-1.98 per share, according to its late September 16 statement. The company made $3.47 per share, or $577 million, in the third quarter of 2023.

Both companies also expect a smaller drop in earnings sequentially, from the second quarter to the third.

SDI notes in its outlook that 80% of its flat-rolled business is "contractually based and tied to lagging pricing indices."

"Flat rolled steel prices stabilized in the third quarter 2024 and have improved," the company added. "Underlying steel demand remains steady."

Nucor and SDI are expected to report their full third-quarter earnings on October 21 and October 16 respectively.

UAE rebar market slows on weak end user consumption

By Serife Durmus - Tuesday 17 September

The market for steel rebar in the United Arab Emirates slowed during the week ended Tuesday September 17 because of weak end user consumption, sources told Fastmarkets.

The reason for weakening end user consumption was uncertainty on the future of prices, as well as a lack of new projects, sources said.

“Demand is there, but supply is bigger than demand in the UAE,” one market participant said.

In addition, rebar buyers already placed orders during the previous week.

EmSteel, the new brand name for the country’s biggest producer Emirates Steel, is offering rebar at 2,442 dirhams ($665) per tonne ex-works for September orders.

Deals were heard at 2,170-2,290 dirhams per tonne ex-works from the rebar producers in the country during the past seven days, unchanged week-on-week.

Fastmarkets’ weekly price assessment for steel reinforcing bar (rebar), domestic, exw UAE was 2,170-2,290 dirhams per tonne on September 17, unchanged week on week.

Billet imports

Oman offered billet at $500-510 per tonne CPT UAE, and one booking was made at $510 per tonne CPT for 5,000 tonnes.

Fastmarkets’ weekly price assessment for steel billet, import, cfr Jebel Ali, UAE was $500-510 per tonne on September 17, unchanged week on week.

Rebar imports

Rebar from Oman was sold to the UAE at $592-593 per tonne CFR for payment upon delivery.

This compared with the previous deals at $593 per tonne CPT, made the week prior.

Fastmarkets’ weekly price assessment for steel reinforcing bar (rebar), import, cfr Jebel Ali, UAE on a theoretical-weight basis was $592-593 per tonne on September 17, widening downward by $1 per tonne from $593 per tonne on September 10.
