Chinese HRC prices unchanged amid absence of direction

By Zihuan Pan - Tuesday 26 December

Spot prices for Chinese hot-rolled coil were unchanged on Tuesday December 26, with futures prices for the flat steel product remaining rangebound in the absence of a direction, sources said.

Domestic

Fastmarkets' price assessment for steel hot-rolled coil domestic, ex-whs Eastern China (Shanghai) was 4,070-4,080 yuan ($570-571) per tonne on Tuesday, unchanged from Monday.

The most-traded HRC contract on the Shanghai Futures Exchange experienced another choppy trading day on Tuesday and closed a touch higher, marking a sixth straight trading day of gain.

While steel demand is seasonally slow, prices for finished steel were underpinned by rekindled hopes for stimulus measures from top authorities, reduced supply amid anti-smog restrictions in northern China and strong support from input costs, market participants said.

Recent cuts to deposit interest rates by major Chinese banks, coupled with China's financial authorities' latest vow to "appropriately" strengthen proactive fiscal policy in 2024, increased market expectations for more monetary easing from the Chinese government, market participants added.

Many northern Chinese cities, including the top steelmaking hub of Tangshan, have initiated or are starting production restrictions to combat air pollution since last week, which are constraining output at steel mills.

The most-traded iron ore contract on the Dalian Commodity Exchange hit a one-month high of 990.5 yuan per tonne in the final trading hour before closing bell on Tuesday.

Export

Fastmarkets calculated its steel hot-rolled coil index export, fob main port China at $575 per tonne on Tuesday, unchanged from Monday.

The export market for Chinese HRC remained muted on Tuesday, with most market participants still in holiday mode.

Traders refrained from giving offers so far this week given the fiscal year-end accounting.

Offers from small, privately-owned mills and traders were at $570-578 per tonne FOB China for 3mm SS400 HRC.

Larger mills set their offers at $585-595 per tonne FOB China for 3mm SS400 HRC, narrowing upward from $580-595 per tonne FOB a week earlier.

Market participants still expect large mills to offer discounts if there are firm orders, given that a major mill in northern China concluded deals at $575-580 per tonne FOB last week when they set their offer at $595 per tonne FOB.

Market chatter

"We haven't seen any new factors that can offer upward momentum for steel futures prices. But we also don't see much downside in prices either given the high costs for steelmaking raw materials," an industry analyst in eastern China said.

Shanghai Futures Exchange

The most-traded May HRC futures contract on the SHFE closed at 4,135 yuan per tonne on Tuesday, up by 5 yuan per tonne from Monday's close of 4,130 yuan per tonne.
