Turkish deep-sea scrap demand remains muted amid weak finished steel sales

By Cem Turken - Tuesday 27 February

Turkish steelmakers continued to stay away from deep-sea scrap import markets amid a slowdown in domestic finished steel sales, industry sources told Fastmarkets on Tuesday February 27.

Offers and bids for deep-sea scrap decreased amid weakening finished steel markets. No significant deep-sea trade was heard since late last week.

The most recent cargo deal was heard on February 22, when a steel mill in the Marmara region reportedly booked a European cargo with 22,000 tonnes of HMS 1&2 (80:20) at $406 per tonne and 3,000 tonnes of bonus material at $431 per tonne CFR.

On lack of fresh trading in deep-sea markets, daily scrap indices remained flat on Tuesday.

Fastmarkets' index for steel scrap HMS 1&2 (80:20 mix) North Europe origin, cfr Turkey was calculated at $398.74 per tonne on Tuesday, unchanged day on day.

And the corresponding index for steel scrap HMS 1&2 (80:20 mix) US origin, cfr Turkey was calculated at $403.62 per tonne on Tuesday, also flat day on day, leaving the premium for US scrap over European material at $4.88 per tonne.

Turkish mills have been trying to minimize their deep-sea scrap purchases to push down prices because they have been largely struggling with weak finished long steel sales, Fastmarkets understands.

A steel mill in Izmir reduced its domestic rebar offer by $10 per tonne to $605 per tonne ex-works on Monday February 26, excluding sales tax, which is equivalent to about 22,585 lira per tonne, including the 20% value-added tax.

The steel mill kept its rebar offers flat on Tuesday but could not sell much material, sources said.

Fastmarkets' latest price assessment for steel reinforcing bar (rebar) domestic, exw Turkey was 22,600-23,400 lira ($730-755) per tonne on February 22, widening downward from 22,800-23,400 lira per tonne on February 15.

Rebar, billet markets in UAE returning to normal after March prices announced

By Serife Durmus - Tuesday 27 February

The markets for steel rebar and billet in the United Arab Emirates (UAE) were returning to normal in the week ended Tuesday February 27, after rebar producers in the country announced their prices for March production, sources told Fastmarkets.

Emirates Steel Arkan, the largest rebar producer in the UAE, is offering rebar at 2,736 dirhams ($745) per tonne ex-works for March orders, unchanged since January 22.

Rebar buying was weak before the price announcement was made on February 22.

In addition to the uncertainty surrounding prices, rains and stormy weather in the country had slowed market activity earlier in February.

Demand in the UAE was improving, sources told Fastmarkets.

Domestic prices

Emirates Steel Arkan sold rebar at around 2,600 dirhams per tonne ex-works.

Rebar from re-rollers was sold at 2,365-2,420 dirhams per tonne ex-works during the past five days, according to sources.

Fastmarkets' weekly price assessment for steel reinforcing bar (rebar), domestic, exw UAE was 2,365-2,600 dirhams per tonne on Tuesday, unchanged since January 30.

Billet imports

No new billet import prices were heard to the UAE during the past seven days.

Fastmarkets' weekly price assessment for steel billet, import, cfr Jebel Ali, UAE was unchanged at $510-520 per tonne on Tuesday.

Rebar imports

About 10,000 tonnes of Oman-origin rebar was booked by UAE buyers at $648-651 (2,380-2,390 dirhams) per tonne CPT.

Fastmarkets' weekly price assessment for steel reinforcing bar (rebar), import, cfr Jebel Ali, UAE on a theoretical-weight basis was $648-651 per tonne on Tuesday, rising by $1 per tonne from $647-650 per tonne on February 20.
